

Truth & Reconciliation Week

September 27 to October 1

We remember the past to create a better future.

The Truth & Reconciliation Week is a five-day national event that focuses on how Every Child Matters. It's a time to honour and listen to stories of survivors and their families. It's a time to remember and discuss the impact of the residential school system in Canada.